SOCIAL 27

Social 27 Cuban Supper Club is a love letter to Cuba in the 1940s and 1950s. In the 1940s, supper clubs were considered "destinations" where patrons would spend their entire evening, from cocktail hour to after-dinner nightclub entertainment.

Social 27 aligns with the values that have made its parent restaurant and local favorite, Doce Provisions, a stand-out in the Miami culinary scene: creative cuisine, a vibrant atmosphere, and welcoming service. Inspired by Nuevo Cubano cuisine, the menu fuses updated Cuban cuisine with influences from the Caribbean. Led by Chef Owners Justin Sherrer and Lisetty Llampalla of Doce Provisions, they celebrate the heritage of "La Pequeña Habana" as well as the vibrancy of traditional Cuban staples. With a creative approach to Cuban cuisine through technique and locally sourced ingredients. Social 27's lush, tropical dining room and carefully crafted cocktails transport guests and pay homage to Cuban heritage.
